A game of knowledge, speed of recall and unabashed geekiness.

One of the most well-adjusted teams around, PQB consists of Freshmen through Grad Students

Bask in the admiration of high-schoolers when we put on our two annual tournaments.

Practices are loose and fun with opportunities to feel smart by getting questions, mocking them or by just yelling random things!

[ Some of last year's exploits: ]

Hosting TRASHionals, the national pop-culture tournament.

Fun at the sword and fireworks store on the way to Rochester.

The invigorating Arctic chill of Ann Arbor in January.

Pop-Culture tournaments at Depauw and Case Western.

Foremost we share the ability to find an odd sort of humor in things like the Defenestration of Prague and the Squirrel of Strife which are yet more odd after an O. Chem question.

We have weekly practice Thursdays 8:30<sup>PM</sup> (until they kick us out)

in the Honors College
